Sticking to California law, Humboldt Distillery uses legally-grown hemp, which must have a "THC content of less than 0.3 percent on a dry weight basis," according to a press release from the company. Although this isn't enough THC to get you high, the 40% alcohol will surely get you drunk. Read more... More about Vodka , Marijuana , Food , and Watercooler
