Gift Giving Traditions Around The World

This interactive map from Cloud 9 Living offers some potentially helpful tidbits on gift giving traditions around the world. For example, if you're thinking of giving a clock as a gift in China, think again. It's considered bad luck. Or, if you head to Russia, remember to give bouquets with an uneven number of flowers. Even-flowered bouquets are for funerals. And, when in Sweden, you can't go wrong with a bottle of liquor. Click through to see the infographic in larger format.
